SILVEROIDE CASES containing Toilet Articles Shaving Outfits, Manieure, Sewing Materials, &c. &c., ot 20 per cent discount.

BRIC-A-BRAC-The 10 per cent discount that is to be allowed Monday means more than many will expect. It should be known that reduced prices were marked on many of these works of art in pottery prior to Christmas day, so that when you deduct one-tenth from these reduced prices you buy at 20 and 25 per cent less than you could do a week ago.

HANDKERCHIEFS-And so it is with the more expensive Handkerchiefs. Many of the Real Duchess Lace and Point Lace beauties as well as those of filmy linen, embroidered as if by fairy fingers, are market at reduced prices. On Monday a further reduction of 10 per cent discount is to be allowed—one-tenth off the price of all Handkerchiefs marked $1 and up to $16.50

JEWELRY-The few that remain of those warranted Sterling Silver Souvenir Spoons that were reduced to $1.25 just before Christmas may be claimed on Monday for only 98c. each. You may know the $1 Silver Thimbles of elsewhere have been 89 cents at the Palais Royal. Monday's price, 75c. each.

HEAD RESTS-The very necessary after-Christma requisites at reduced prices. The dear mothers, loving sisters and the whole army of women who have good naturedly put up with crowded stores and dirty streets in order that loved ones should have Christmas presents need a head rest equally as much as do the rollicky boys and men. These Braided Head Rests that were 18c. are now reduced to 30c. each. Henry Clews' Weekly Financial Review, istoday, says: In our late advices we have expressed the opinion that the various influences favoring the value of securities would probably system, which carry a current of 2,000 volts. The weather this morning was very foggy. While Williams was delivering milk the horse went ahead and, coming in contact with the old wire, was knocked down. Williams ran to his assistance and was struck in the face by the wire, which he grasped with both hands and held on to. No person witnessed the actual occurrence. Williams was taken to the residence of J. N. Robbins and Dr. Bradshaw was called in. He came too late, however, for Williams was beyond human aid. His body was taken to the morgue.

Roundsman Drabell found the wire in a dangerous condition early in the night and notified the Essex County Electric Company. The engineer of the company went to the spot and engineer of the company went to the spot and made an examination and decided that there was no danger.

THE CHILEAN SITUATION.

War Believed to Be Inevitable in Army and THE PRESIDENT AND CABINET AS WELL AS THE

CHILBAN MINISTER RERE THOUGHT TO BE IN-DULGING IN A GAME OF COEDIALITY TO ALLAY PUBLIC APPREHENSION AND TO GAIN TIME. War with Chile seems to be inevitable in army and navy circles. In spite of all impressions to the contrary that may be given out from official sources, it is a fact that the President and his cabinet do not now see any way by which hostilities can be prevented with honor to this country.

Preparations are being made in both the navy and the army to meet the exigencies of the case. Should Chile reconsider and apologize at the last moment such action on her part would be received with satisfaction, but it is not expected.

TRYING TO GAIN TIME

Unless the United States government is greatly deceived as to the attitude of Chile the officials there and their minister are merely officials there and their minister are merely trying to gain time until the Capitan Prat. which is now building, can be completed and fully equipped for active service.

Of course, it is the desire of the President and his cabinet to as far as possible allay public apprehension until such time as a public announcement becomes necessary.

There are very good reasons for believing that the State Department and Senor Montt are engaged in the diplomatic game of cordiality more for the purpose of allaying public apprehension than with any hope of success in the efforts to promote peace.

the efforts to promote peace.

The attitude of the Chilean government is well known to be hostile and defiant to such a degree as to make it almost absurd to indulge the hope that an apology or any sort of amends will be offered for the outrage upon Amesican sailors. THE CAPITAN PRAT.

It is regarded by naval officers as very important that the situation should be officially proclaimed in time for a request to the French government, as a neutral power, to cease the work of fitting up the Capitan Prat for naval

This vessel, properly equipped and well manned, would be more than a match for any vessel in the United States navy, and perhaps for any two of them. for any two of them.

The only equalizing element that we could rely on is the superiority of the personnel of our navy. If the Capitan Prat is permitted to be completed and put into service the chances are that she will do considerable damage in spite of the best efforts of our navy. If her equipment can be prevented the importance of prompt action to that end may readily be appreciated.

THE PRESIDENT'S PROBABLE ACTION. There is a strong probability that the President will not delay long after Congress reassembles in laying the whole case before the two houses with a strong recommendation.

This is a matter in which partisanship will not figure. Once assured that the situation is one that demands vigorous action the demo cratic House and the republican Senate may be alike relied on to sustain the administration fully and the question of cost will not enter deeply into the matter.

CHILE'S NEW PRESIDENT This is the day on which Senor Jorge Montt will be inaugurated as president of Chile, but so far as can be learned no news of the event has yet been received from Minister Egan.

There can be no doubt of the desire of the officers of the State and Navy Departments to allay any apprehensions of war between the United States and Chile that may have been caused by alarming newspaper publications.

SECRETARY TRACY'S STATEMENTS. Secretary Tracy this morning said: "The talk of war is all in the newspapers." The Secretary further showed some impatience at the reiteration of warlike stories, and said emphati-cally that they were without foundation, and that there was nothing in the situation to warrant their acceptance. He called attention to the fact that the U.S.S. Boston, which had just arrived at Valparaiso, had sailed promptly for San Francisco and re-peated what Assistant Secretary Soley had pre-

AT THE STATE DEPARTMENT. The officials at the State Department were oncommunicative of news, but took such an optimistic view of the situation as to warrant belief (strengthened by the fact that Secretaries Blaine and Tracy have been today in consultation with the President) that some news of a most reassuring character has been received from the American representatives in Chile. MINISTER EGAN'S LAST DISPATCH. The last dispatch from Minister Egan was received at the State Department on the 23d. Its nature has not yet been developed and probably will not be until the complete cor-respondence is sent, to Congress by the President. The greatest possible secrecy is maintained as to these dispatches and all the officials at the State Department profess the most total ignorance on all subjects relating to Chile.

It is not anticipated that any of the correspondence will be submitted until the final re-ply of the Chilean government has been re-That there have been some developments in Chile not generally known outside of diplomatic circles is evidenced by the fact that Minister Egan has used the cables twice in comparatively quick succession, on the 17th and again on the 23d. Rates to Valparaiso are sufficiently high to force a conclusion that whatever may have een the events chronicled by the minister in his messages they have an important bearing on the matters at issue.

TWO PHASES OF THE QUESTION. There are really two phases to what known as the "Chilean question," the one relating to the assault on the sailors of the Baltimore and the other to the treatment of Mr. Egan and the refugees within his legation house by the Chilcan authorities. The former is the more important and formed the main burden of the President's remarks in his message. The latter serves to reinforce the American attitude of resentment.

The climax of the case is expected to occur when the Chilean government presents its diplomatic conclusions, drawn from the report of the judge of crimes who investigated the Val-

He went to Bellevue Hospital November 19. ment of a number of doctors who have since become prominent in the medical profession. Their efforts and special study of the case have done little if any good to arrest the progress of the strange disease with which he was attacked. Dr. Herman M. Woods has always had a good appetite, and, strange to say, has never been treated and, strange to say, has never been treated for any other trouble, not even a cold. Dr. Pulley at Bellevue, who last treated him, said his skin must now be at least an inch thick. His treatment has changed under the different doctors, but there is no record of what any of them used. A grand celebration of the partial opening of the big Ningara Falls tunnel, one of the greatest pieces of hydraulic engineering work in the country, occurred there on Christ mas eve. All day the drillers in the portal shaft, which opens on the river bank below the falls, could hear their compressed air drills. The final blasts were made at 6 o'clock and an hour afterward the contractors, Messra. Rogers & Clem-ent, walked through the headers and over 4,000 feet of the tunnel was open. The tunnel men shouted and a gala time followed.

The calculations of the engineers were most accurate, as the two ends came together at exactly the same place. Contractor Rogers fired the final blast by electricity. It was the heaviest in the course of the construction of this big undertaking, and was distinctly felt in the village, although over 200 feet of solid rock intervened. A big lunch was served to the beasts, the drillers and others connected with the work. All nationalities were mingled together, black and white, in the general hilarity of the evening. Over forty kegs of beer were drunk. The access of the men in their miners' costumes, hats with lamps in them, enjoying themselves to their utmost down in the bowels of the earth was a novel and thrilling one. There is about 600 feet of rock between shafts No. 1 and No. 2, which the drillers are fast demoliabing and on, of to finish within a week se ten days. HELD UP THE TRAIN.

Exciting Time With a Robber on the Chicago and Northwestern. Members of the train crew of the Chicago and Northwestern vestibule limited train which arrived at Minneapolis at 1:40 Thursday afternoon tell a remarkable story of an attempted robbery which rivals the work of Bandit Holzhay through Wisconsin in 1888.

The train had just left Ean Claire, and stopped
